Forbes, of Guysboro, N. S., admits corrupt practices by agents sufficient to void his election.

Reported that Caron will be sworn in as lieutenant-governor of Quebec on November 23rd. Angers resigning to enter the cabinet.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13.

Richard Steele, laborer, was frozen to death, at Calgary, while drunk on Wednesday night.

The express car, on the St. Paul railway, was robbed of $20,000 on Thursday morning at western union junction, near Milwaukee.

Furious gales throughout Great Britain on Wednesday and Thursday did great damage to everything above ground, especially crops. Scores of wrecks occurred on the coast, accompanied in many cases by loss of life.

Jas. McMunn recently received a letter from W. R. Lloyd, dated on Sept. 3rd, from Forty Mile Creek, Yukon river, Alaska. The letter says: "This country is full of hardships; a very bad country to get through to prospect, and half the time very little to eat. The boat that comes here does not bring enough provisions to last us from one year to another. There are about 125 miners here on an average. The diggings are not very rich, but we can find gold almost anywhere. There have been some nice nuggets found this summer, one $235, one $97, and several from $25 to $50. We are looking for good rich diggings yet. The country is frozen up so hard it takes a long time to prospect a creek or gulch rightly. It gets too cold to work during September so we can only mine three or four months a year."

SUNDAY last was fine and although a little ice was floating in the river the ferry scow was running. Monday morning was still finer, and the river was almost clear. On Monday, however, the sky became cloudy and the wind rose and some snow fell. Tuesday and Wednesday were also somewhat stormy and cold and about two inches of snow fell. On Wednesday night the sky cleared and the weather became quite cold. In the morning the river was frozen over and some venture-some people crossed on foot. Thursday was fine, but in the evening the mail was brought across in a sleigh drawn by hand. Friday was also very fine. This morning teams are crossing.

REGARDING the question of scrip for the Edmonton volunteer company of 1885, the Dominion lands agent at Edmonton has been advised that no action can be taken by the lands department in regard to military bounty for the Edmonton and other volunteers whose cases were dealt with in the act which was passed in the last session of parliament until the usual warrants of authority are received from the department of militia and defence. The Edmonton volunteers should have their case taken up again and pushed. Since the Regina volunteers have been granted scrip, those of Edmonton can scarcely be refused, having been in active service, as the Regina men were not.

COMMENCING the 1st of December, and daily until the 30th, inclusive, the C. P. R. announce they will run a series of excursions to the east. The excursion tickets will be good for ninety days, with privilege of an extension of time. The rates from Calgary will be $60 to points in Ontario, Quebec, Montreal and west. Very low rates are also advertised to points in Quebec, east of Montreal, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOV. 14, 1891.

A BRIDGE.

The question of a traffic bridge across the Saskatchewan river at Edmonton has been before the public of this place and the Ottawa government for some years. Although there has been a necessity for a bridge ever since the C. P. R. was completed to Calgary, and all the supplies for the Edmonton district and for the Mackenzie basin had to cross the Saskatchewan at Edmonton, the necessity was not felt to be so pressing until the completion of the C. & E. railway. In the days of reighting with wagons and a delay and expense of crossing on the ferry, although as great was not felt as keenly owing to the more leisurely and expensive methods of managing business in those days. But with the railway comes a new order of things. Hours count in business now as they did not before, and cents are calculated as closely as dollars used to be. The delay and expense of ferrying are felt to be a very serious tax on the community and a nuisance in many ways direct and indirect to the progress of the district. Besides, the volume of business has increased and the aggregate burden is correspondingly increased. The circumstances of the past two weeks have brought out more vividly than ever the great necessity of a bridge. On Sunday, November 1st, the river became ice, and from that time until this date, nearly two weeks, the crossing has been always difficult, nearly always dangerous, and frequently altogether impossible. The loss from delay in freight has been serious, and the loss and inconvenience to passengers more than serious. The eighty or one hundred passengers, of the past two weeks, could, no doubt, make strong arguments in favor of a bridge based on their experience in sleeping on shake downs or in the cars, or waiting four hours in the cold on the river bank, or a chance to risk their lives in a small boat amongst the floating ice, or take a ride in the cage suspended from the ferry cable—a most risky looking and inconvenient mode of conveyance. The case is a little worse this fall than usual, but is always bad, and liable to be quite as bad or worse any spring or fall. So far there have been no accidents, but when the risk is considered it is plain that there are bound to be some accidents, sooner or later, if traffic must be carried on the ice when it is forming or breaking up. No doubt some wise head will ask, "Why do people want to go north of the river when there is plenty of room south of it?" In reply it may be said that even of the whole of the Edmonton settlement—now three-fourths on the north side—were to remove bodily to the south side, it would still remain a trade of the vast Mackenzie basin, comprising one-fifth of the area of all Canada, to be served by crossing the river at this point. It was to develop this country and this trade that the C. & E. was built, the development has been going on rapidly since its building, and a traffic bridge would assist very materially in its further development. No doubt the bridge is an important item. On this point it may be well to remark that the location has been examined by the most practical and successful bridge builder in Canada, and he offers to construct a substantial traffic bridge across the Saskatchewan, at Edmonton, for $50,000, and put in a draw for $5,000 more. Considering the interests that would be served by the construction of a bridge here this is a small amount, and that amount could not be better expended, with a view to opening up the country to trade and settlement.

The Calgary Herald speaking of the probable appointment of Chapleau as minister of interior says: "If the government count on a continuance of Northern support they will make no such blunder as that."

ARCANGELO Chisholm, of Winnipeg, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and $500 fine with the cost for indecent in committing this crime.

EXPORT RATES.

Norris & Carey are continually in receipt of enquiries regarding prices for shipment of Edmonton grain. Last mail brought the following batch. From Hall, Ross & Co. of the Victoria, B. C. flour and rice mills enquiring for sample and price of wheat on the cars at Edmonton. From Douglas & Parlow, Calgary, asking for quotations for ten or twelve car loads of oats. From Marston & Brown, Montreal, asking prices of wheat, mixed or black oats, feed barley, frozen wheat or good wheat and how many car loads could be supplied. From N. N. N. N. B. C. asking for oats. At previous dates enquiries for oats and potatoes have been received from Poplar Grove, Lone Pine, Scarlett's, Calgary, Commore, Banff and Do. etc. When it is considered that Edmonton has this year a good surplus of the products asked for and that it is the nearest producing point to the western localities from which enquiries have been received, it would naturally be supposed that a brisk trade was being done between Edmonton and those points. It is not so, however. Two freight trains a week came into Edmonton loaded and the country here empty. The reason is that the rates on farm produce for exports which the railway finds it necessary to give to other localities in like circumstances, in order that trade may be carried on are not given here and therefore it cannot be carried on. True, a very reasonable export rate is given, considering the distance to Port Arthur, namely 30 cents per hundred pounds, or to Montreal, per lake and rail, 48c per hundred pounds. But the trouble is that as Edmonton is the furthest shipping point from those markets and our produce naturally has to pay more freight in reaching them than that of regions not so far west, we naturally look elsewhere for market and find it according to all reasonable business principles in British Columbia, which wants everything we have to export and to whose markets we are many hundreds of miles nearer than any other exporting point in the continent. If we had a rate on freight to Victoria and intermediate points which bore any resemblance to the Port Arthur and Montreal rates, Edmonton prices for produce would be better than those of any other part of the North west, and business would be brisk; but when we are charged import rates for exporting produce business cannot be done. For instance a car load of wheat will be taken to Fort William, on lake Superior, for 30c per hundred, the same price is charged if the grain is only shipped to Calgary, and the dealers have to load and unload in the latter case. In other words, the railway will haul a car from Calgary to Fort William, 1,250 miles, for nothing and unload it at the far end for nothing. The rate to come from Edmonton is 45c, to Donald 55c per hundred and to Victoria 60c per hundred. Nearly twice as much is charged to haul produce 604 miles to Donald, as is charged to haul 1,450 miles to Fort William. No doubt there is room for great differences in rates, but in this case the difference seems to be rather too marked, especially to us, when it is considered that we want to trade with Donald and not with Fort William. We do not complain of the disadvantage under which we labor through living so far from the eastern markets. We think that the superiority of this region counterbalances that disadvantage, but we want and demand the advantage in reaching the western markets to which our western situation properly entitles us.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING.

The system of electric lighting adopted by the local company is known as the Thomson-Houston alternating, and is being installed under contract by the Royal Electric Co., of Montreal, who hold the exclusive rights to manufacture the T.H. dynamo in Canada. The contract calls for a 500 light dynamo, a 50 horse-power boiler and a 50 horse-power Leonard-Ball high speed engine made in London, Ont. The circuit will embrace about six miles of primary wire, that is the wire strung on poles only, and the pressure on the wire will be 1,000 volts. Only 52 volts pressure is allowed to enter the house of the consumer, and this reduction is accomplished by the aid of what is known as a "transformer" placed on the pole outside the premises. Such a pressure is entirely harmless. The lamps are of 16, 32, 65, or larger, candle power, the 16 being the standard from which all calculations are made; thus, a 32 candle-power costs the consumer twice the amount paid for a 16 candle-power, and so on. So far all the work has been done in a most substantial manner, giving promise of a perfect system. The power house is now being erected on the bank of the river, at Ross' landing, and the terms of the contract call for the turning on of the light on November 30th. The whole work is being pushed with great energy, and the company expects to have 300 standard lamps burning on the above date. The rates are as follows: for dwelling houses, hotel bedrooms, etc., the first lamp costs $1 a month; 2 lamps, 85c each; 3 lamps, 70c each; 4 lamps, 60c each; all over that number, 50c a month. For stores, offices, billiard and bar rooms, livery stables and other places not mentioned the 1st lamp is $1; 2 lamps, 95c each; 3 lamps, 90c, and so on down until the 9th, and all over that number cost 60c each per month. Special rates will be made with churches and other places using the light only occasionally. In addition to above rates the consumer pays for installing the lamps on his premises for all lamps up to two, $2.50 each; from two to twenty, $2.25 each, and above that number $2. This charge is to pay for labor and material the latter becoming the property of the consumer. These rates are considered low as compared with other points, even in Ontario. The hours of lighting will be from sunset until one o'clock in the morning, and during the dark months probably from 5:30, a.m., until sunrise.

J. K. DRINNAN, proprietor of the Medicine Hat Times, was fined $1 and costs and compelled to apologize in the libel suit against him by an employee of the C. P. R. whom the Times without mentioning the name had accused of a serious crime. No doubt the Times was rather hasty in its remarks, taking too much for granted, but there can be no question that its action was in the interests of morality. Rashness sometimes a fault, but in a good cause it is more often a virtue. Mr. Drinnan should not be allowed to suffer because he was outstepped on the right side. The courts need more not less of such instances.

David Lockridge, of Minawawa settlement, Manitoba, threshed 2,000 bushels of oats and 500 of wheat in 7 hours and 40 minutes on October 26th, 1891. During the day he set the machine five times and was delayed an hour and a half in a ravine.

AMIEL ZIGLER, George Hodel and Jacob Miller, of Waterloo, Ontario, arrived last week from Calgary and visited the German settlement on Stony Plain. They found the district so good and the reports of the settlers on their season's operations so favorable that all three selected claims, deciding to abandon the homesteads which they had located at High river forty miles south of Calgary. The objections to the High river district is lack of sufficient rainfall, scarcity of water, lack of wooded shelter and high winds and storms. On the Stony Plain they found superior soil, with plenty of rainfall and abundance of water and wood. The German colony only went on their places for the first time about the beginning of June last. They broke the land and sowed on the breaking with the result that they have food for a year and seed beside. They are more than pleased with the country and expect a large immigration of their relatives and friends from Europe next season.

O. O. SWANSON of Waterville, Compton County, Quebec, left for home on Friday's train. Mr. Swanson has been appointed a special agent by the Canadian government for the purpose of working up Swedish immigration to the Northwest, from Sweden direct and from the New England cities which contain a considerable Swedish population always on the lookout for locations on land. Mr. Swanson visited Edmonton with a view to establishing a colony in this district if the country proved to be suitable. He visited several of the settlements and was well pleased and satisfied with the appearance of the country and its productions. He was particularly attracted by the region south of Sandy lake on the western slope of the Beaver hills. He is prepared to recommend the Edmonton district as the district for mixed farming, which his countrymen universally follow.

The Victoria, B. C., papers object to Chapleau becoming minister of interior. They say the affairs of the department are strictly western and the office should be held by a western representative.

NOR-WEST FARMER.

A 28 page monthly devoted to the agricul-tural interests of Manitoba and the Territor-ies in all their branches—grain raising, stock raising, dairying, gardening, poultry raising, bee keeping, etc.

The Farmer is the only agricultural paper solely devoted to Northwest agricultural interests and is therefore a safer guide to Northwest farmers than any paper published in other interests can possibly be, no matter how meritorious it may be in its own line.

Besides, the Farmer is a live paper in every sense of the word. It takes hold of farming matters in a farmer's way, with a view to actual conditions and practical results, not dealing in theories or fancy farming.
